The Guide to Infection Control™

Saves valuable staff time

This unique quick reference system provides instant access to complex information. Your staff's time is valuable—why waste it?

The Guide to Infection Control will:

- Eliminate the time spent looking through a bulky manual.
- Reduce the high cost of “doing it wrong” or not following procedures.
- Reduce the number of calls to the Infection Control Practitioner.

Communicate effectively

The Guide's distinctive, three-panel design contains tiered information cards, which allow readers to quickly find the information they are looking for. Bold titles draw attention to important topics at a glance. There's no time wasted looking for the needed information. And it's always available.

Frequently asked questions

Let the Guide answer FAQ's twenty-four hours a day.

- What illnesses should cause a patient to be isolated?
- What are the work restrictions for personnel with infectious diseases?
- When can we discontinue isolation?
- What are the visitor policies for ICU patients?
- When should I call the Infection Control Practitioner?

Customized for your needs

The Guide is customized to suit your specific needs; it is not an off-the-shelf product. This unique format provides you with unlimited possibilities for providing critical information specific to your infection control policies and procedures.

Easy to update

Because the information cards are in clear pockets, you can easily and inexpensively update information as it changes.

You will never have to throw away an outdated wall chart or laminated display again. Just reprint and replace the individual cards as needed, and your Guides are always up-to-date!

Available when it's needed

The Guide should be displayed in all nursing stations, staff lounges, food service, diagnostic and surgical departments, and all patient care staff areas. The Guide will always be there to provide the information to your team members, at any time.

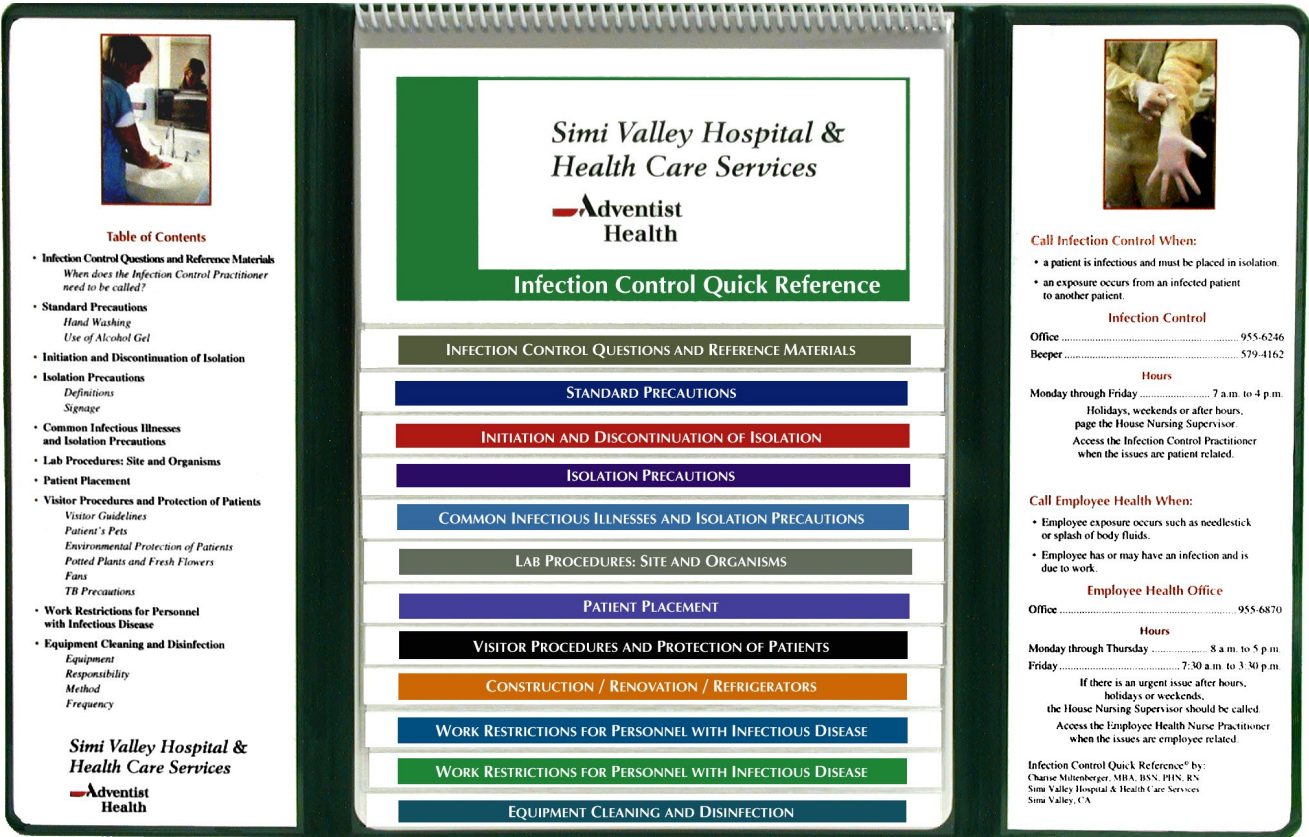

The Guide will present infection control and safety procedures to your staff in a concise yet informative manner. Using it will help you meet compliance standards.

Wall Mounted reliability

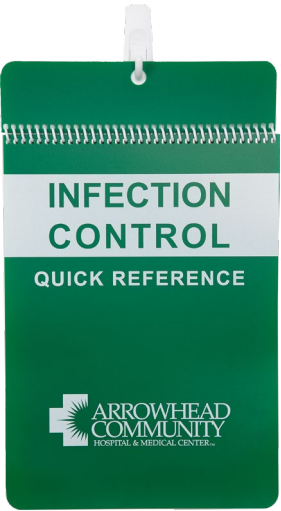

When used with our Wall Mount accessory, the Guide will be easily accessible when needed. With consistent, conspicuous placement and its unique design, the Guide will be quickly recognized throughout your facility.

“The Guide to Infection Control has been a tremendous success. Our staff members have found it to be highly useful—they always check the Guide before they call me. It has decreased my phone calls by at least 30%!”
